++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly cloudy and showery for today.

Today:
Rather cloudy, particularly around the coasts, with occasional showers. Outbreaks merging to longer periods of rain at times across the far north, while building into afternoon over the rest of the area, bringing the small risk of thunderstorms. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Similar to the day with skies mainly cloudy with further showers, these frequent and potentially heavy at times, particularly from Inverness northwards. Fresh to strong northerly winds developing over Hebrides. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Saturday:
Generally overcast with showers or longer periods of rain, which turn heavy at times. However drier and brighter in the Great Glen and later in the day across the Hebrides. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday and much of Monday mainly dry, occasionally bright with light winds. Late Monday and through Tuesday increasing risk of periods of rain developing, possibly turning heavy with chance thunder.
